

Tolmers squatters demonstrate at Levy offices

SQUATTERS from Tolmers Village demonstrated on Friday afternoon outside the plush West End offices of property developer Joe Levy.

They were protesting against eviction notices served on 86 squatters living in 26 houses in the Village. The houses, in North Gower Street, Tolmer's Square, Drummond Street and Hampstead Road, all come under the council's proposed compulsory purchase order for the area. A High Court case against the evictions is being heard on April 25.
