

Time Out

Editorial

Letters	4
Seven Days
News, features, gossip etc	5
Talk, Talk, Talking in the Spaces
A rundown on London's first commercial radio station	11
Bridging the Hemispheres
Interview with Robert Ornstein	16
The Last American Hero
Interview with the film's director ..	18
Film
The ACTT nationalisation debate	20
Books
Helix multi-media; women's books	21
Music
Help Yourself; Murray Perahia	23
Theatre
Bruce Lacey; Radical Theatre
School	24
Television
The TV Handbook	25
Dance
Nadine Bayliss featured	27
Sell Out
News and editorial	29

Information

Agitprop	32
Books	33
Children	34
Dance	35
Eating	35
Film: Index	36
Film: West End Cinemas	37
Film: Local Cinemas	40
Film: NFT	47
Film: Clubs	48
Film: Late Night	49
Galleries	51
Lectures	52
Music: Records	52
Music: Diary	56
Music: Places	61
Opera	69
Poetry	69
Sport	71
Theatre: West End	73
Theatre/Fringe	77
TV & Radio	79
Classified Ads	82
Subscription Form	90
Stop Press	90

Cover photograph by Roger Perry

Camden Council is about to give away £20,000 to the property developer responsible for demolishing the Levy Sq Cinema (left). In real terms that would mean £100 for every person in the borough, or an extra 1,400 homes. Camden's deal with D & J Levy, estate agents, is coming under severe criticism from local people, who are lobbying to get the decision reversed.