Levy deal

A WRIT trying to stop the development of part of Camden was served on the local council today. London journalist Nicholas Tomalin, 41, wants a deal between the council and property magnate Mr Joe Levy's Stock Conversion and Investment Trust to redevelop Tolmers Square to be stopped.

His writ quoting the 1933 and 1972 Local Government Acts claims it is illegal because it is against the interest of the people in Camden.

Tolmers Square is a rundown area just north of the Euston Road.

"I accept that redevelopment is inevitable," said Mr Tomalin.

The council plans to compulsorily buy land on behalf of Stock Conversion. The company would then sell Camden housing land below the market rate and allow a share in the commercial rental.
